The Recently Launched Renault Sandero is The Next Giveaway at Eton Institute:

Dubai, 06 June 2010 – Eton Institute, the leading training institute specializing in over 100 Languages, Teacher Training and Computer Training, unveiled the recently launched Renault Sandero, the newest and the most trendy member of the hatchback generation as the grand prize for the 'WIN A CAR' bonanza announced last week. The state of the art car, with a 3 year warranty, will be given away as a bumper prize, with all insurance and registration expenses covered, through a raffle draw at the end of the summer in Dubai.

Dr. Eli Abi Rached, Director, Eton Institute, remarked: "We love to engage with our community of learners through amazing prizes every month and individuals eagerly await these exciting offers. This time however we have truly gone all out in delighting students by giving away a brand new car as a prize, and not just any car, but the latest 2011 Renault Sandero which has just been launched in the U.A.E."

Eton Institute offers a range of courses and workshops for over 100 languages, teacher training, computer training, business skills and summer language activities for kids (4-17yrs), with prices starting at just AED 490. Individuals registering for any of these courses or workshops will automatically be entered into a grand draw to win a brand new 2011 Renault Sandero, with latest features such as 1.6L engine 16v engine, Electronic Control, Automatic Transmission with Tiptronic Gears, latest-generation Bosch 8.0 ABS and an integrated MP3 player. To ensure a stress-free, all expenses paid, ready to drive experience the prize will also include insurance and registration for one year, free 1000 kilometres service and 3 years warranty.

"Learning a new skill or a language is a rewarding experience in itself with life-long benefits. The 'WIN A CAR' mega offer this summer takes this already rewarding experience to a whole new level unequalled within the region for an educational establishment. You can even double or triple your chances by choosing specific courses or by enrolling for more than one course. The odds for winning are so high and so real that you can almost feel the exhilarating rush of zooming away in this zippy hatchback." Dr. Rached added.

Anyone registering for any course this summer in June, July and August will automatically be entered in the 'WIN A CAR' raffle draw. The Institute is also announced its special summer immersion courses that allow individuals to upgrade their language skills in English or Arabic in the shortest possible time. These 60 hour Super Intensive courses in English and Arabic involve 4 hours of interactive learning in a group setting, daily, from Sunday to Thursday, over 3 weeks, with the option of convenient morning, afternoon or evening timings. Places on these popular courses however are limited and are offered on a first-come first-serve basis. Individuals are encouraged to register early to avoid disappointment.
